

Course Announcement Small animal

AOVET Course—Principles in Small Animal Fracture Management

May 25–27, 2015, Brno, Czech Republic

Course description

Course participants will learn the basic AOVET Principles of fracture management and be trained in the techniques for the treatment of common fractures. Each course module consists of a number of evidence-based lectures that cover the recommended principle concepts. Through practical exercises, participants will gain experience in the application of these AO principles and techniques. Small group discussions serve to expand and reinforce the learnings, placing emphasis on indications, options, applications, and the development of a valid decision-making process.

Target participants

This course is targeted to any surgeon interested in increasing their knowledge and skills in operative fracture management.

Course chair

Bruno Peirone (IT)
Alois Necas (CZ)

International faculty

Olivier Gauthier (FR)
Günter Schwarz (AT)

National faculty

Milan Dvorak
Bedrich Nakladal
Robert Smec

Information

Course registration fee: CHF 720.–

For more information and registration, please visit the event room.

Contact

Monika Gutscher (AOVET, Switzerland) at monika.gutscher@aovet.org, phone: +41-44-6358408

Venue

Faculty of Veterinary Medicine—University of Veterinary and Pharmaceutical Sciences Brno
Palackého tř. 1/3,
612 42 Brno
Czech Republic

Hotel accommodation

Hotel Bobycentrum
Sportovní 559 /2a Brno 602 00
www.hotelbobycentrum.cz

Not yet a member?
CLICK HERE